Theme and objective

The objective of this two-day workshop is to provide participants with an overall understanding of the critical factors in organic vegetable production, a list of resources (knowledge, tools & equipment & seed sources) and a draft garden plan.

Results

The two-day workshop is divided into five sessions:

- (1) An introduction that includes a walk through the garden year based on a slide show of pictures;
- (2) Soil health and how to support it;
- (3) Crop health and how to support it;
- (4) Crop planning (including cover crops);
- (5) Tools for the organic market garden.

The final sessions consists of a show-and-tell of key tools for organic market gardens and provides participants with the opportunity to handle the equipment.
